Summary of Information

A large explosion will occur on the 17th between the hours of 3:00 and 5:00 PM. This will occur ostensibly during transfer or loading procedures of something from one position to another; ostensibly because this does not completely feel as if it will be purely accidental. There are stacks of cylinders on wooden racks. One of these cylinders gets pushed into another one.

There will be a large cloud of dust or smoke which extends from the ground surface to a great height and will move from right to left on the horizon. It will sweep very fast. There will be an associated bright flash of orange and yellow. There are also blue flashes but these occur in another area. The earth is shaking and objects are bouncing around. Everything in the "cloud's" path will be burned. The "cloud" will also spread a residue which will be very bad.

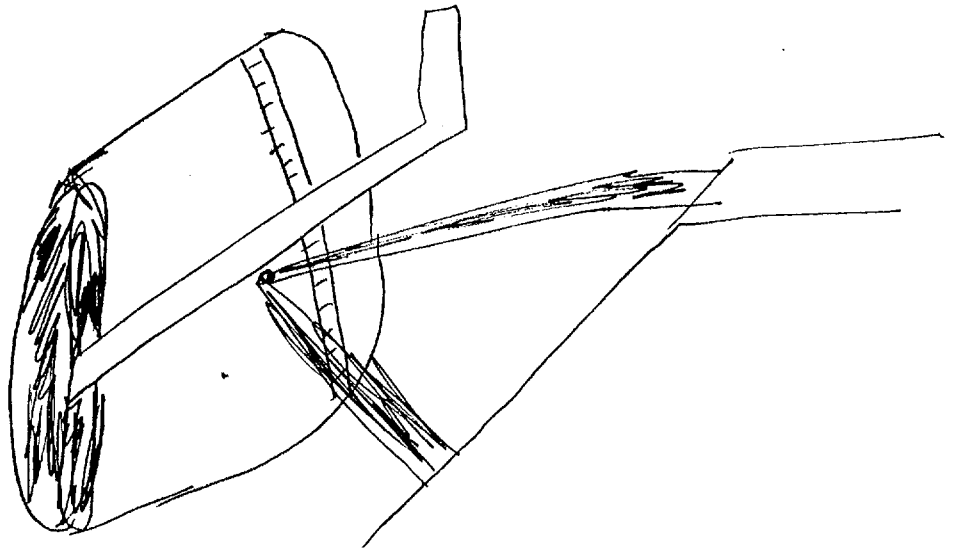

A highway or train track will be thrust sideways and turned over.

The origin of this explosion is a place that is reminiscent of a petro refining plant and contains concrete or stone walls, tower-like structures, dome-shaped objects, pipes and a myriad of other angles, corners and intersecting lines. There is a spike-shaped object. This "facility" is associated with fertilizer yet not fertilizer. There is a lot of mechanical movement e.g. transporting stuff, of yellow machines, men, etc.

This place has the designator of MVT-370. It is located within a dry, arid, almost desert-like area. The immediate surroundings are flat but there is a mountain range visible in the background. There is water nearby. Some of it feels as if it is the result of heavy rains

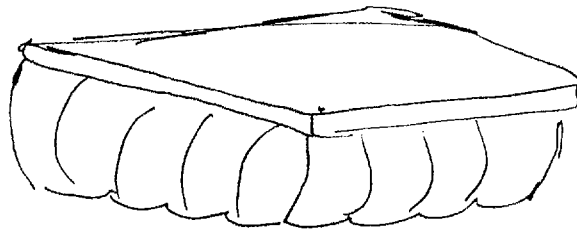

Someone was overheard saying, "[the] lines are down; [we] caught someone listening in". There will be those who will take credit for this event but didn't do it.

Several names and/or phonetic combinations were perceived. These were: LIVINGSTON; GRABECKI; PHOENIX; DRY WATERS; GER-RAMAN-DI; GER-RON-O...; GAS-TRO-PLISK; GAS-TRON-TRIX; GAS-TRO-TRIX; and AOL's of GALVASTON, TEL AVIV, MIDDLE EAST, URALS, INDIA and TEXAS.
